Mayer Gilrey-Only Two Favorites Successful at Gravesend-The Card To-day. In view of the remarkable success of favorites on Decoration Day at Gravesend, a ides that the luck would still continue. As he sun came out warm and bright, the though heavy, began to dry rapidly when the sport opened the crowd had a total of 5,000 enthusiasts. But 1 a total of 8,000 entities and had suddenly turned, for during moon only two favorites passed a stand in front. Shaw kept up two firsts and a second total of the stand in front two firsts and a second total of the stand in the "Pittsburg Phil" incidentally other small fortune in bets. oted two mounts to victory.

ted two mounts to victory.

The red letter event on the card was the May Stakes for three-year-olds at about six furlongs. Senator Timothy D. Sullivan's Col. Padden was the talent's selection. The colt was a general favorite at 6 to 5, the Tammany Hall contingent playing him until their pockets were no longer bulging with went to the post, there was a sudden rush into the ring of "Pittsburg Phil's" commisliam Lakeland's The Regent, Shaw had the mount and, as the old saying goes, "a who do not make their bets hurriedly and ethout close deliberation, got aboard. There was also heavy betting on John Daly's erratio filly Giennellie, Julius Fleischmann's Barbara Frietchie and W. T. Ryan's Brandy

They got away to a good start. Brandy Smash quickly dropped back clear out of all chance to be in the money. Barbara Frietchie and Glennellie raced neck and neck to the ing together a length or so back. At the head of the stretch Glennellie looked as if she would do the trick, for she had half a length over The Regent, that was neck and neck with the Fleischmann colt. It was a vigorous drive to the wire all the way. Fifty yards from the end Shaw brought the Regent up. nd with a most skilful hand ride he land ed the Domino gelding winner by the shortest of heads with Glennellie, Col. Padden, Barbara Frietchie and Contend finishing behind him, heads apart, in the order named. The time heads apart, in the order named. The time was 1:121-5, fast work in view of the going. The handicap for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and an eighth, run as the fifth race, was a peculiar betting affair. First Whip, with 12e pounds and O'Connor in the saddle, appeared to have little attractiveness for the wise men, who were divided in their opinions as to the true merits of Alsike, 104 pounds, and Andronicus, 115 pounds. First Whip and Alsike opened equal favorites at 8 to 5.

Whip and Alsike opened equal favorites at 8 to 5.

Andronicus's first quotation was 2 to 1. Then as the supposedly "educated" money came flowing into the layers' satchels, Andronicus was quickly made favorite at 8 to 5, with Alsike a hot second choice at 9 to 5, and first Whip's price raising to 11 to 5. After being flagged Alsike and Andronicus raced ahead on about even terms, with First Whip jogging along in the ruck as if he had no desire to disturb them. Alsike was done up brown at the turn, and Andronicus started down the stretch with all sails set and looking all over a winner. But O'Connor went to work with First Whip so diligently that the Duke of Montrose colt caught McCafferty's horse in half a furlong and won in a merciless drive by two lengths. Alsike was four lengths out of the place, where-upon Daly leaned over the rail and held an earnest conversation with Brennan, who had the mount.

The first favorite to be successful was Patrick H. Sullivan's Sadie S. that landed the second event for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and a sixteenth. The victory was particularly notable because it was scored over T. F. Monahan's fleet the second event for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and a sixteenth. The victory was particularly notable because it was scored over T. F. Monahan's fleet colt. The Rhymer. In the betting Sadie S. was 3 to 2, while The Rhymer was almost as valuable at 8 to 5. Humboldt and Blue-away, the other two starters, were well backed in the place books. Sadie S. never was headed after the barrier shot up. She was ridden out at the close and beat The Rhymer by one length and a half. There was an unexpected upset in the first race for three-year-olds and upward, distance about six furlongs. In a field of eleven "Pittsburg Phil's" Mayor Gilroy and J. L. Holland's Sky Scraper were equal favorites at 4 to 1. There was also much fondness for Dr. Riddle and Godfrey. Mayor Gilroy and Godfrey were the contenders for the lead to the turn, where Gold Fox, 10 to 1, rushed past them and came down the stretch like a whirlwind. It was a galloping victory for Gold Fox that beat Mayor Gilroy by rushed past them and came down the stretch like a whirlwind. It was a galloping victory for Gold Fox that beat Mayor Gilroy by three lengths. Gold Fox was entered to be sold for $800. "Pittsburg Phil" personally bid the horse up to $2,400, but the owner retained the animal with an extra $5.

When the layers put up the odds for the third race for maiden two-year-olds, at five furlongs, Green B. Morris's chestnut colt Rameses, by Goldfinch-Fleurette, was no better than a 6 to 5 favorite. There was no public form by which to judge the quality of the colt, but it was said that he was even faster than Cunard, the winner of the National Stallion race. Senator McCarren's Shandonfield was second choice, while "Pittsburg Phil's" money went on Francesco.

Many thought that Nugget had a royal chance and he was accordingly reduced rapidly from fifteens to nines. At the post Rameses appeared to be unable to break well and when the flag fell he was slow in starting. First Shandonfield went to the front, then Nugget, the latter leading by a length around the turn, where Brennan took him so wide into the stretch that he fell back. This was the chance for Shaw to take Francesco up and he did so readily, coming home in a drive a winner by a length. Nugget was fast enough to nab the place from Shandonfield by a neck.

The form players went to Sister Juliet in the last race for two-year-old fillies, at five furlongs, even though the Esher filly was at 1 to 2. Disadvantage was 2 to 1 and a cinch for the place at 1 to 3. The race was between them from start to finish. At the head of the stretch Smith bungled matters with Disadvantage so much that he was caustically criticised by the crowd. The favorite then drew away and won in a drive by three parts of a length, Destitute running with a new burst of speed in the last half furlong. Summaries:

ST. LOUIS. May 30.—Delightful weather drew a good crowd to the Fair Grounds this afternoon. The track was fast and a good Friday card was presented to players of the races. Favorites had decidedly the best of it. The third event for maiden two-year-olds furnished the incident of the day, four horses going down in the turn to the stables. Jockeys Mathews and Moon riders of Staoleles and William F. respectively, were badly hurt, the former having a leg broken at the thigh and the latter being kicked in the head. ROCHESTER, May 31.—Only the smallness of the crowd at the Eastern League game between Rochester and Montreal this afternoon prevented a riot. In the second inning Delehanty of Montreal bunted and the ball struck his foot. He was called out, and Parke Wilson, the old New York eatcher, ran up and protested loudly. Umpire John Hunt ordered him back to the bench, but Wilson insisted on his point, Several of the players crowded around the umpire and the fractious player, and the game was temporarily suspended. In the American League they go after rowdies hard and do not minee matters in upholding the umpires. The Baltimores are feeling the weight of President Johnson's from hand. Donlin was fined 523 the other day by Johnson, McGinnity was assessed 510 and Keister was taxed 55. In a letter to McGirax scoring his team for its conduct on the field Johnson included in forcible talk. McGirax's attended to the field of the conduction of the field forcible talk.

tion was called to the fact that he should be as much interested as anybody else in preserving the American League's reputation, which it had taken time to build up, and he was warned that he would not be permitted to destroy that reputation no matter what means were found necessary to preven: it.

A report credits Hanlon with sixing up the different League teams as follows: "Pittsburg has a powerful team, but they are not playing their game. They will be in line all right and will make a hot race for the pennant. Boston is worlully week and will not be in the race. New York is likely to keep near the top for a while, but will not stay there. St. Louis has not the pitchers to be a first-class team. Philiadelphila is playing a strong game and will get stronger as the season gets older. Chicago, the same as Boston, is out of it. I think the Brooklyns will make a hot fight for first place again. From now on we will improve. Our pitchers will soon be all right. I think there will be another exciting race between Brooklyn and Pittsburg before the season is over. There is a long journey ahead yet." Baseball Games To-day.

The two teams of the Paterson Cricket The two teams of the Paterson Cricket Club, champion of the New York Cricket Association, had a great contest on Decoration Day in the championship series of that organization. Owing to the soft wicket the batsmen found it difficult to make runs and the bowlers had a decided advantage. W Bunce was found unplayable by the team B men and he captured seven wickets for nine runs, J. Kenyon being the only man to reach double figures, with a good inning of 13. For team A, F. G. Warburton played in capital style for 37, not out. Team A won the game by the score of 68 to 28.

Should the weather be favorable local cricketers will have another big list of championship games to-day. Chief of these will be the first league contest between the Montclair A. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

SURPRISES IN THE IRVINGTON-MILBURN RACE ON DECORATION DAY.

Gillott's Great Ride Commented on by Students of Cycling Form - The Performance of Van Iderstine a Prominent Feature of the Meet. Discussion of the Irvington-Millburn race was a theme in general yesterday among those versed in the sport. The winner and the scond man and the time prize winners were all persons who caused surprise. The second man, whom Turner, the plumber, beat out in the last 100 yards or so, was, it seems, another rider who was not in the class with the "youngsters," who usually go in and win He is past 30 years of age and weighs 158 does not look the part of a bicycle racer. It was a day for what, in cycling, are heavyweights. Achorn, the time-prize winner, weighs 167 pounds. The great ride of Gillott, a one-minute man, who lost his company and rode all the way with the scratch man and finished ahead of Achorn, was another matter of interesting comment by those who study cycling "form."

The fact that the promoter of the race lost money was considered as a matter of course. He did so last year and the year before. Unless somebody else comes to the front it may be that the classic race never will be run again. Among the riders who made a reputation for grit was William Van Iderstine of South Orange, who started from the six-minute mark and finished in thirteenth place by running in leading his wheel with a broken chain. At ten miles he was leading all and at fifteen he was second by only a few feet. The referee, Will R. Pitman, is accounted to have made a new record of firm discipline for himself by refusing to allow several men to start. A couple of those excluded were men under suspension by the N. C. A.

allow several men to start. A couple of those excluded were men under suspension by the N. C. A.

Road reports received at the headquarters of the New York State Division, League of American Wheelmen, indicate that the recent rains will not affect the roads materially. In some places, however, the roads are in poorer condition than usual, for instance, in Cornwall, the mud is so soft that an automobile in trying to go up hill yesterday, slipped back and had to be pushed up. For the information of those riders who contemplate a trip to the Berkshires by wheel, the following route appears to be the best: Cross Fort Lee, to the Hudson County Boulevard, ride through Hackensack and Suffern to Newburgh, and from Newburgh go north to Hudson and from Hudson to Great Barrington. There is a walk of a couple of miles between Great Barrington and Hudson, which can be avoided by going from Hudson up to Pittsfield Probably the pleasantest way to go from Hudson is the extremely roundabout way of going from Valatie to Albany, thence to Troy, Eagle Bridge and round through the mountains to Williamstown and then down. The only hard part of this road is between Troy and Eagle Bridge, but there are grand views across the Hudson and the distance is not very great. The seenery amply repays.

The best way to reach Tarrytown is to go over the Central Bridge and up Jerome avenue, 7 miles to the City Line where the macadam pavement ends. A few hundred yards beyond this, McLean avenue crosses; take this road to the left and go about a quarter of the left following the trolley cars from Mount Vernon to Yonkers, cross the Northern Railroad at Dunwoodie Station and go up the next hill. At the top of this hill there is a roadhouse; take the left hand fork and continue to the end of the macadam pavement, and continue on for about half a mile over poor dirt road to Farragut avenue, where take road to the left for a mile to the sight hand side of this house to Sawmills. Travel up this road about a mile and a quarter to the left and go down to t

Baltimore, May 31.—Jimmy Michael defeated Watson Cloeman and O. V. Babcock here to-night at the Coliseum in the twenty-mile motor-paced race by three and two-thirds of a mile. The Midget was in good condition and followed his pace in fine style. His opponents rode in relays of five miles each, and, as had been expected, lost on every change. Babcock was also in poor condition and the Midget rode rings around him. In the sixteenth mile the chain on Michael's motor broke and nearly caused Jimmy a spill. One end of the chain stuck to the machine and in this way dragged around the track. Vetter, the motorman, however, reached down and picked it up and the motor paced Michael to the end of the race minus the leg bower of the rear man. Time for the twenty miles, 33 minutes 15 1-5 seconds.

It was on the baseball grounds at Hanover Park. Flanagan stood near first base and threw the weight across the diamond between third base and the grand stand. It was the first time in six years that either club had been decisively defeated, the highest score having previously been made by the Franklin Club in 1807, when the Philadelphias won by 8 to 6. The Manhattans played white on the oddnumbered boards Champion Lasker, who has been touring in the West and South, has written to E. Kemeny, his manager, at Philadelphia, stating that he could give no more exhibitions, inasmuch as he expected to sail for Europe on next Wednesday. Kemeny, however, will try to induce him to play simultaneously against the clubs of the Kings and Queens Chess League of Brooklyn, which had made application for a date.

The American champion, Pillsbury, was at last accounts at St. Louis and will not be back East for several weeks.
